

Music to Your Ears

The “Music to Your Ears” initiative would purchase a rolling acoustical shell for musical performances in the theatre. The current acoustic shell requires a team of technicians to set it up due to the size and weight, and it takes up a large amount of storage space in the theatre shop. The new shell could be set up by 1-2 people with minimal training, saving labor time and money. In addition to looking fresh the ease of this system would help bring the music to your ears. Based upon estimates from Wegner it would cost approximately $20,000.
